

Astronauts Ready for Long Flight

Good Mission Predicted By McDivitt, White

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The man who will float alone in the heavens Thursday, and his space buddy who will pilot him there, started the last day before flight today with good news and great expectations.

Command pilot James A. McDivitt said: "We've got a good spacecraft, and it looks like we're going to have a good mission. We're ready."

"We" are McDivitt and fellow Air Force Maj. Edward H. White II — the man who will step out of the Gemini 4 spacecraft and wait in weightlessness on their second orbit of the earth.

There was the chance, too, that these two rookie American astronauts would get close enough to their booster rocket on their maneuvering early orbits to enable White to touch the booster during his weightless walk.

The space agency had said earlier that they might get as close as 20 feet to the booster. But mission director Christopher C. Kraft said that "there is nothing holy about 20 feet."

Would the mission last four days as intended? Kraft said that the decision would be made sometime after the first 24 hours of flight — when the astronauts had a chance to evaluate their fuel supply for their maneuvering jets, and experts looked at the decay of the orbit.

It was a demonstration of the flexibility of the flight plan.

There was no hurry about the decision, Kraft indicated, partly because space-flight officials wanted the astronauts to recover from the space-wk maneuver.

The prospect for their nearly 96-hour, 62-orbit flight were put in glowing terms Tuesday by a mission review panel of experts. "We couldn't look better," said Kraft.

These men are "in as high a state of readiness as any crew I have ever seen," said Dr. Charles A. Berry, chief flight physician who has watched over the health of Mercury and Gemini astronauts.

"In general, the launch-day weather presents the best situation I've ever seen," said Ernie Amman of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Timetable For Gemini Space Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Here is a timetable for the Gemini 4 flight of astronauts James McDivitt and Edward White, based on a 9 a.m., EST, launching:

4:30 a.m.—Crew awakened, breakfast, shave, shower.
6 a.m.—Final physical, don space suits.
7:30 a.m.—Crew enters spacecraft.

9 a.m.—Blastoff of Titan 2.
9:06 a.m.—Orbit achieved, McDivitt maneuvers Gemini 4 to within 400 feet of orbiting booster.

10:38 a.m.—End first orbit, White begins preparing for spacecraft exit. McDivitt begins approach to within 20 feet of second stage. Space suits pressurized, cabin depressurized.

11:55 a.m.—White opens hatch.

12:01 p.m.—White exits spacecraft on 25-foot tether, uses space gun to maneuver close to second stage, and takes pictures. Spacecraft is over southern United States.

12:13 p.m.—White re-enters spacecraft. Hatch closed, cabin pressurized, suits depressurized.

12:33 p.m.—McDivitt fires jet thrusters to separate Gemini 4 from spacecraft by 16 miles.

2:13 p.m.—McDivitt fires thrusters to begin overtaking second stage again.

3:40 p.m.—McDivitt closes to within 10 feet of stage, then separates by several miles.

After this maneuver, McDivitt and White return to main purpose of flight — to determine how well man withstands prolonged exposure to space environment. After 97 hours, 50 minutes aloft, they are to land in Atlantic Ocean 400 miles southwest of Bermuda at 10:50 a.m., EST Monday.

WALKING GEAR—LTV Aerospace Corporation, shows the latest version of what the Gemini astronaut will wear when he leaves his capsule in orbit to perform tasks in space. Controls for the unit, once located on the chest pack, now have been relocated on two side arm assemblies attached to LTV-developed back pack to make maneuvering easier for the astronaut. The pack, scheduled for its first space mission in late 1966, during NASA's two-man Gemini program as part of the Air Force experiment D-12, is under development for the Air Force Systems Command by LTV Aerospace Corporation's Astronautics Division. The assembly is called Modular Maneuvering Unit, or MNU. (UPI Telephone)

Four People Die In Car, Truck Crash

Four persons were killed in the head-on collision of a car and a pickup truck on Route 20 near Blackburn about 6:45 p.m. Tuesday.

Three in the car were dead when the officials got to the scene. The fourth victim, Rose Marie McGinnis, 32, driver of the pickup truck, died after being taken to Fitzgibbon Hospital in Marshall. She was from Malta Bend, Mo.

The Highway Patrol identified the other dead as Samuel Gaither, 57, Corder, Mo., driver of the car; and passengers, Claire Wilford Gibson, 61, Blackburn and Walter C. Borchers, 67, also of Blackburn.

A Saline Co. deputy sheriff said the pickup truck apparently was on the wrong side of the road. There were no skid marks. The truck was headed west, officials said.

Trooper William Turner, Sweet Springs, reported the car had to be pried apart in order to remove the occupants. Both vehicles were taken from the scene by the Hall Motor Co. wrecker, Sweet Springs.

Two Moseley Funeral Home ambulances from Sweet Springs answered the emergency call. Himes and Mrs. McGinnis were taken to Campbell-Lewis Funeral Home in Marshall.

Gibson's body is at the Miller Funeral Home, Sweet Springs, and the body of Mr. Borchers was taken to the Hoefer Funeral Home, Higginsville.

Mrs. McGinnis is survived by her husband, Robert L. McGinnis, Malta Bend; and her mother, Mrs. Florence Riedle, Miami, Mo.

The State Highway Patrol said the accident occurred one mile east of Route 127.

Killed In Accident Near Warrenton

WARRENTON, Mo. (AP) — The wife of a Scarsdale, N.Y., dentist was killed Tuesday when a car driven by her husband ran off Interstate Highway 70 west of Warrenton, Mo. and overturned.

Missouri Highway Patrolmen said Mrs. Charlotte Pomeroy, 60, was dead on arrival at a St. Charles, Mo., hospital.

Her husband, Richard, 69, is in serious condition with severe head cuts.

Missouri Business Growth Leads All States In Region

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Missouri businesses expanded at a rate of 38.1 per cent last year, leading all Midwestern states and ahead of the national average of 33.2 per cent.

The state Chamber of Commerce announced the figures today, based on a survey by the National Federation of Independent Business Inc.

Nebraska's expansion rate was 30 per cent, Illinois 18.6 per cent and Oklahoma 35 per cent. The chamber said that for every $4 of new business generated in Missouri, $3 comes from expansion of established firms.

US Nuclear Stockpile Is Growing

PARIS (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara says the U.S. nuclear stockpile in Europe will be twice its 1961 size by this time next year.

"We are now shipping such substantial amounts of nuclear warheads that within 12 months the stockpile will be 100 per cent greater than in 1961," McNamara told newsmen after the meeting of defense ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization ended Tuesday.

He said at the edge of the Ozarks told the NATO ministers there were thousands of nuclear warheads on European soil.

He said in December 1961, he untrue reports that the United States is planning to withdraw its nuclear muscle from Western Europe.

"There has been a steady increase in the stockpile over the last four years," McNamara said, adding that since January the number of nuclear weapons in Europe had increased by 10 per cent.

McNamara said the stockpile includes warheads for U.S. forces and those intended for use by Allied forces in case of war. All are in custody of U.S. troops as required by U.S. law.

The NATO meeting agreed to give further study to a U.S. proposal to share some nuclear controls with other NATO members through a committee of four or five defense ministers.

The committee presumably would include the United States, Britain, France, West Germany and one of the smaller NATO countries.

Plan Protest Of Acts At US Mission

BERLIN (AP) — The United States is expected to protest against an anti-American demonstration Tuesday during which the U.S. military mission headquarters in Communist East Germany was damaged and two American flags were torn down.

A U.S. Army statement said, "East German police were present but took no effective action." The 300 demonstrators were protesting U.S. action in Vietnam.

The U.S. protest presumably will be made to Soviet officials who are responsible for the mission's safety. The mission is accredited to the Soviet army in East Germany and occupies a villa in Potsdam outside East Berlin. The Soviets have a similar mission in West Germany.

Informed sources said the Soviets made no attempt to stop the demonstration, although the closest Soviet military barracks was less than a mile away. The U.S. Army statement said a "flag pole was broken, two U.S. flags desecrated and U.S. vehicles overturned or damaged. All windows on the first floor were broken, the kitchen was damaged and paint splattered on the building."

The official East German news agency ADN said the crowd marched on the mission building after attending a rally in downtown Potsdam where North Vietnamese diplomats spoke.

East German riot police ringed the area and ordered the demonstrators to disperse, the Communist report continued, "but the loudspeaker appeals were drowned out by the chanting of the demonstrators."

Brown said he does represent E. W. Thompson and W. C. Cramer who have expressed an interest in the Cable TV Inc. and has represented the two Sedalia business men for some time in various legal matters.

Record Toll Of Viet Cong By Marines

No US Casualties In Skirmish; 20 Cong Troops Killed

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Patrolling U.S. Marines killed 20 Viet Cong today in the Chu Lai sector, 52 miles southeast of Da Nang without suffering a single casualty. This appeared to be the biggest toll ever taken of the Red enemy by American ground forces on such patrols.

North of the border, Communist gunners downed two U.S. Navy planes during a raid on a radar station about 70 miles from Hanoi. A rescue pilot said there was no chance the five American crewmen could have survived.

Dispatches from the central highlands told of heavy government losses in a Viet Cong attack on the district town of Le Thanh and a triple ambush that followed in which the death of two Americans — an officer and an enlisted man — was reported Tuesday.

More than 175 South Vietnamese troops were killed or missing as a result of the overrunning of Le Thanh and the repeated bushwhacking of government forces on the road from Pleiku, 25 miles to the northeast. The total of U.S. dead in combat in Viet Nam rose to 403.

The two planes were both from the 7th Fleet carrier Midway. They were lost in an attack on a radar installation on the coast about 70 miles south of Hanoi.

An A4 Skyhawk with one pilot aboard plunged into the sea about a mile off the coast. No parachute was observed.

A few minutes later a second plane — a modified A1 Skyraider with four crewmen aboard — was hit and crashed about half a mile inland, a military spokesman said. It had been diverted to the area to search for the plane downed at sea.

GOP Bid for World Meeting On Viet Nam

NATO 'Faults' Sought By Team of Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans called today for a free world conference on Viet Nam and announced they are sending a team of congressmen to find out what is wrong with the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

At the same time, House Republicans declared they have moved to implement 45 of the pledges made by the GOP platform.

Two Hurt Seriously In Car-Bus Crash

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Two persons were injured seriously and 27 others received minor injuries Tuesday when a car and a school bus collided in St. Louis.

Five of the injured were in the car. Sherill Hunt, 12, a student on the bus and Marie Howard, 36, a car passenger, were reported in serious condition at Homer G. Phillips Hospital. Police said the other injured were treated at a number of hospitals and released.

There were 43 children on the bus, all from Mark Twain elementary school, when the accident occurred.

False Alarms Probe

Police fear that a youngster may innocently cause a serious accident if the parents do not prevent the child from turning in false alarms to the Fire Department and ambulances.

Several false alarms have been answered by the fire companies over the past several months and the voice has become recognizable as the same caller each time over the fire phones, police say. The prankster turned to ambulances Tuesday about 4:55 p.m. when two calls were made.

Officials believe the voice to be that of a small girl and the alarms generally are to the north part of the city. Police are investigating.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed today a $4.8-billion excise tax cut bill, including a quick slash averaging $75 in the tax on an automobile.

The bill now goes to the Senate, which is set to give it quick handling. If the Senate passes the legislation, a number of excise taxes would be repealed outright July 1, including those on jewelry, luggage, and toilet preparations. The automobile tax would be cut three percentage points.

The broadside of GOP policy statements, plans and proposals came from the Republican Coordinating Committee and from the House Republican Conference.

GOP policymakers avoided advocating the use of nuclear weapons in urging President Johnson to employ "whatever measures are necessary" to win the war in Viet Nam.

The GOP Policy Coordinating Committee said in a statement made available at a news conference that Johnson should call a conference of "such nations as will join us" in battling communism in Viet Nam.

Questioned about the call for all-out use of power to curb the Viet Cong, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said the matter of nuclear weapon use was not discussed by the policy group.

"We tried to avoid meticulous specifics, if I may put it that way," he said.

The same kind of avoidance of specifics appeared in a policy committee's report on job opportunities, which did not mention Johnson's recommendation for repeal of a Taft-Hartley Act provision under which states can ban compulsory union membership.

GOP National Chairman Ray Bliss said there had been no action on this issue. House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan supplemented this by saying that policy on such matters would be made in congress, rather than in the coordinating committee.

Questioned about a statement that the Johnson administration has failed to enforce both the letter and the spirit of civil rights laws, Ford said the Republicans were referring to the fact that the attorney general had instituted only four school integration suits up to last April 1.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is 6'3" and he says he weighs 265 pounds but I don't believe it. He refuses to get on a scale in my presence.

I had him on a special diet but gave up when I discovered the diet meal was just a snack and he was eating everything in sight when my back was turned.

The children hide their candy from him but he finds it. When I bake for my club he sneaks into the freezer and eats the desserts. I think he has high blood pressure but he won't go to a doctor.

You told the other wife that some things are worth nagging about and a husband's health is one of them. Does this go for me, too?—OPEN FOR SUGGESTIONS.

Dear Open: Yes, but change your tone and your tune. Tomorrow tell him you are making an appointment for him with a doctor. Ask which day and what time would be best.

A few days later ask if his affairs are in order because the way he eats he's not going to be around to see his children through college.

Dear Ann Landers: I have a terrible problem. I'll bet you've never heard anything like this before.

When I was six years old I saw a tuba in the Labor Day parade. I said to my mother "I want one of those when I grow up." For years I begged for a tuba and my mother said if I was still interested she would get me one for my 12th birthday.

Well, six months ago I reached my 12th birthday and my mother bought me a tuba—secondhand, but very nice. Now, nobody will let me practice. Everytime I start to play my mother says she has a headache, or I will wake up my little sister. Or my Dad says he can't hear what's on TV and to play some other time.

The band leaders who are also my teacher said if I don't start learning something pretty soon I will have to get out of the band. I'm ashamed to tell him my problem. What shall I do?—SAD KID.

Dear Kid: Every school has music rooms where kids can practice. Tell your teacher it is very difficult to practice at home and you'd appreciate it if he'd give you permission to use a practice room.

Dear Ann Landers: We are having discussions in our Sunday religious instruction class. The subject under debate is "Should Sex Education Be Taught In Schools?"

Most of the kids I have talked to are for it. I am against it. I feel that a subject as intimate as sex should be taught at home, by parents. Do you agree?—AGAINST IT.

Dear Against it: Sex education SHOULD be taught at home by parents. But too many parents are abysmally ignorant.

Some parents are incapable of discussing sex with their children because they are inhibited by age-old taboos instilled in them by THEIR parents.

To those who are against sex education in schools I say this:

It is foolish and unrealistic to tell teen-agers to stop thinking about sex. They ARE thinking about it and they are going to continue to think about it. What they need is correct information so they will know HOW to think about it. Nine out of 10 teens who write to me about sex problems say they cannot communicate with their parents, which is a sad commentary, indeed.

When the information is not available at home, school is the next best place to learn.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Watered Down Version Of Bill Gets Approval

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Senate Agriculture Committee Tuesday approved a watered down version of a commodity merchandising bill passed by the House.

A similar measure was defeated in the Senate earlier this year.

It would permit fresh fruit, vegetable and poultry farmers to organize councils for market development and quality control.

The program, if approved by a state board and adopted by a majority of the farmers producing the commodity, would be financed by a tax on commercial production.

The bill contains a refund clause to permit farmers dissatisfied with the program to get their money back. This clause was amended in committee to require application of refund within 60 days instead of two years.

Supporters of the measure anticipate strong opposition on the Senate floor.

Also approved by the committee was a bill changing regulation of the public grain storage industry.

Grain warehouses could be li-

On Reapportionment

Dirksen Invites Johnson To Stay Out of Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen invited President Johnson today to stay out of the controversy over the reapportionment of state legislatures.

Johnson told a White House news conference Tuesday he is generally sympathetic with reapportionment on the basis of the Supreme Court's decision that both houses of state legislatures must be set up on a population basis.

Noting that a president doesn't act on a proposed constitutional amendment, Johnson said he didn't want to get into a detailed discussion of pending proposals.

"When the Congress does get down to debating the question and considering it, I will, of course, spend some time on it and become thoroughly conversant with it," Johnson said.

"But I wouldn't want to predict at this time just what measure would emerge in a form of an amendment or what action Congress or the people might take on it."

Dirksen took note of the fact that Johnson stopped short of saying that he would take a position on the question.

"It's a matter of submitting the issue to the people," Dirksen said. "The President doesn't sign any resolution that is passed and I don't think he ought to take a position on it."

Dirksen has sponsored a proposed constitutional amendment, now pending in the Senate Judiciary Committee, which would authorize the states to submit to their voters the issue of whether they want one house of their legislature to be elected on other than a population basis.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., said in a separate interview that Johnson's statement that he is "generally sympathetic" with reapportionment on a one-man, one-vote basis is very encouraging.

Douglas said he thinks it will act to stiffen resistance by the Senate liberals against the Dirksen proposal. He said liberals had been hoping for an expression of this sort from the President.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., has said opponents will filibuster against Senate action on the proposed amendment, a clear indication that the liberals do not believe at this point that they could muster the one-third of the vote to defeat it. Submission of a constitutional amendment to the states requires approval by two-thirds majorities of both houses.

Dirksen said he is not worried about the possibility of filibuster talk.

"We've had filibuster threats before," he said.

Dies As Lightning Hits Phone Line

HARRISONVILLE, Mo. (AP)—Mrs. John N. James, 61, was killed by a heavy electrical charge Tuesday, apparently when lightning hit the telephone line into the James house on a farm about two miles southwest of Harrisonville.

"This is the first time I have ever heard of such a thing," said Dr. Robert C. Phillips, Cass County coroner. "I can only assume that the lightning struck somewhere between the lightning arrestor and the phone."

Evidence indicated Mrs. James was using the telephone. Her husband found her body on a divan when he came in from a field. The only signs of injury were small burns on the face.

Several telephones in the area were knocked out about the time Mrs. James was killed.

Mayors Ready For Action On 22 Resolutions

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The mayor of Indianapolis, Ind., and a superintendent of police talked about crime Tuesday as United States Conference of Mayors prepared to take action on 22 resolutions.

Mayor John Y. Barton and Orland Wilson, Chicago's police superintendent, told the conference that crime was a major problem in the nation's cities.

"We must remember," Wilson said, "that it is our citizens who are the lawbreakers as well as the victims of crime — and, if we are to reduce crime to levels acceptable to the law abiding, we must have their assistance."

Wilson asked for citizen help in the war against crime and criticized what he termed the fascination of the courts with the rights of criminals.

"There is something terribly wrong with the administration of criminal justice in this country," he said. "And our people should do something about it."

Barton echoed Wilson's remarks about help from citizens in fighting crime and urged that more extensive training programs be established for law enforcement officers.

About 300 mayors attending the conference which ends today will act on the resolutions.

Some of these would call for reapportionment of congressional and state legislative districts on a population basis, support a move to create an urban affairs post in the President's cabinet, provide more funds for urban areas to build highways and for federal aid to improve city police training.

Ex-Attorney Guilty Of Conspiracy

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Alfred H. Osborne Sr., 56, a former Kansas City attorney, was convicted by a Federal Court jury Tuesday of conspiring to defraud investors.

Osborne was remanded to custody of a U.S. marshal in lieu of bail and Federal Judge William Byrne set June 28 as date for sentencing.

Sam Melnick, 49, Los Angeles, who pleaded guilty in a surprise move last week, will be sentenced at the same time.

The government charged Osborne and Melnick with bilking investors of $140,000 in a scheme to build rapid transit systems in Kansas City and Los Angeles. They had formed a company called American Spacemaster Development, Inc., and were accused of telling investors they could become millionaires after the company built the two rapid transit systems.

The jury found Osborne guilty of conspiracy to defraud, transporting money across state lines and fraud by wire.

Osborne, who conducted his own defense, has been entangled with the law on several occasions. In February, 1964, he was convicted in St. Joseph, Mo., of conspiracy in connection with the robbery of the Dearborn, Mo., bank.

In July, 1963, he was indicted by a federal grand jury at Kansas City in connection with robberies of four California banks, as well as the one at Dearborn.

In 1954, Osborne was convicted of federal income tax evasion and sentenced to a year in prison.

In 1951, he was named as an accessory in the Matt Jones murder case in Missouri. The body of Jones was found in the Missouri River with a concrete block tied to the legs.

Osborne pleaded his own case and was acquitted after a jury trial. He was found guilty of contempt of court charges and received a 10-month jail sentence.

Training Closer To A Climax

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — When James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II climb into their Gemini 4 spacecraft Thursday for 62 laps around the world, it will be the umpteenth time they have entered the ship.

All the other times have been leading to this climactic moment. If the cramped, tiny cabin seems familiar, it should. The two spacemen have spent more time in it than they have in their own homes over the past nine months.

The two men have undergone some harrowing experiences readying for their record-breaking, four-day space journey from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

They have been locked up tight in the spacecraft and tossed overboard in rough Gulf of Mexico waters, shaken up like a milkshake on vibrators, whirled at dizzying speeds on centrifuges, pulled into the air by a speedboat to float down into icy waters at the end of a parachute.

But most of their time was spent sitting in the Gemini mission simulator, a duplicate of the spacecraft that is bolted to the floor and doesn't go anywhere.

John Van Bockel, chief of the training section at the Manned Spacecraft Center, said McDivitt and White have had more training than planned because the flight was originally scheduled for early this year.

Training started last September. Almost everything that can happen on a space flight, including the emergencies, has been practiced — not once or twice, but hundreds of times.

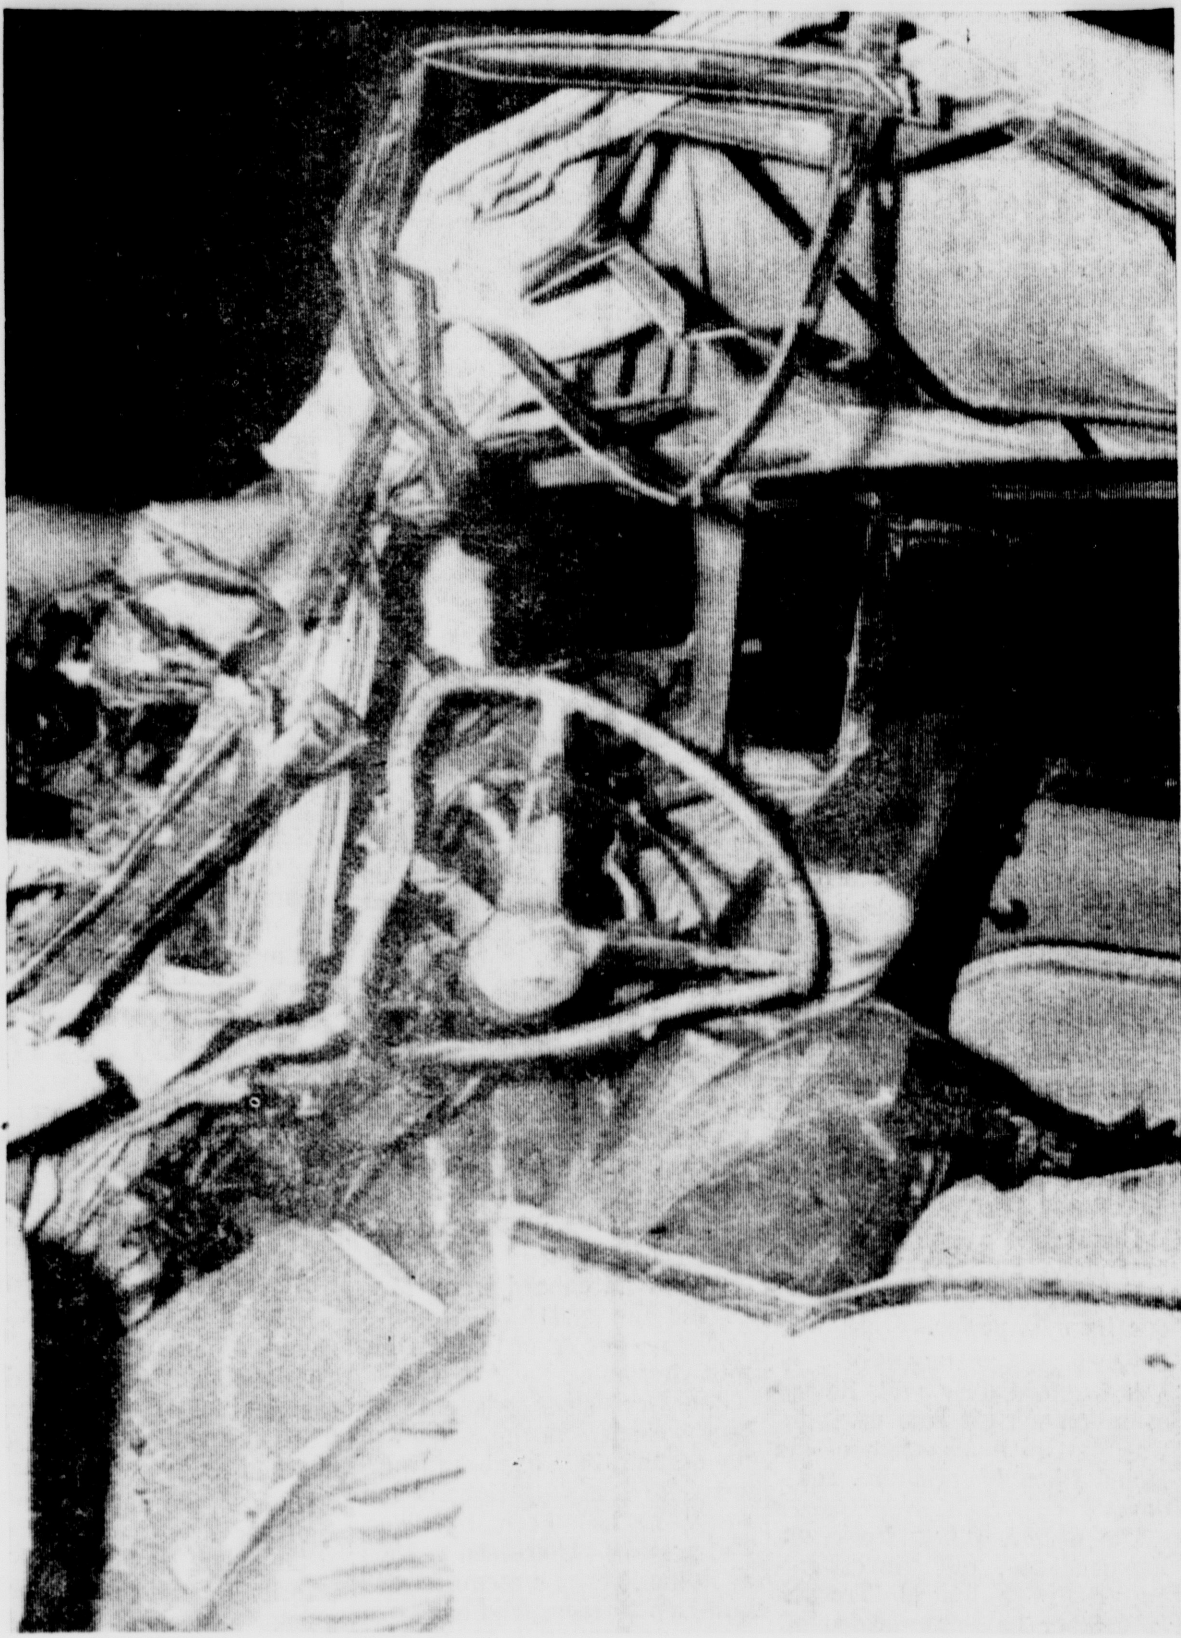

They have lifted parts of the mission out of the flight plan and rehearsed them to the point of automatic reflex.

White has gotten out and then back into the spacecraft 110 times in weightless flying, practicing for his stroll in space.

Engineers deliberately fouled up his oxygen feed in the lifeline during tests to see how he would react — not once, but 20 times.

White spent 60 hours in his space suit alone in the harsh void of a vacuum in pressure chambers. The gloves, helmet and zippers have been tested and retested by both White and McDivitt.

Charge Two Men With Taking Bets

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A county grand jury charged two men with taking bets on horse races after it subpoenaed 12 men from a downtown pool hall Tuesday and interviewed them.

The accused are William Agee, 66, one of those picked up at the pool hall near Main and Walnut, and George Anthony Buckman, about 65, reportedly in custody at Omaha.

The other 11 men were questioned for several hours and released.

Sgt. Sidney Harlow, head of the police department's vice squad, said he and a dozen of his men have been watching the place five months.

"We were told it was a $300-to-$500-a-day operation, but we can't be sure that's true," Sgt. Harlow said. "We made many bets and even received payoffs on some of them."

One member of the police team got a job in the place.

Sgt. Harlow was asked if his betting men came out ahead.

"Not by a long shot," he said, "but we probably did better than the average gambler."

Name Missourians For Promotions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Missourians were among 32 Navy captains nominated Thursday by President Johnson for promotion to rear admiral. They include:

Seeking To Extend Present Air Route

DALLAS (AP) — Exhibits intended to show that it is in the best possible position of any airline to provide the comprehensive pattern of air transportation needed between the southwest and the Pacific northwest were filed with the Civil Aeronautics Board Tuesday.

Braniff is seeking to extend its present route beyond Denver to Salt Lake City, Portland and Seattle-Tacoma, to link the northwest with cities now served in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Colorado, Louisiana and Arkansas.

The airline would provide direct flights between the three cities in the northwest and Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, San Antonio, New Orleans, Tulsa, in foreign aid for each of the Oklahoma City, Wichita, St. Louis, Kansas City and Denver.

Fulbright Leads Fight For Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright said today he has decided — reluctantly — to lead the fight for President Johnson's foreign aid bill in the Senate.

The chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee also said he will back Johnson's request that $89 million be added to the measure for the economic and social development of Southeast Asia.

The Arkansas Democrat's declaration was a boon to the administration. Last fall, Fulbright complained that the aid bill had become a "garbage can" for all sorts of things. He said he would not lead the fight for it unless military and economic assistance were separated.

Fulbright said Tuesday he decided to manage the measure after all when he was unable to persuade anyone on his committee to take charge of it.

Besides, he said the committee had made some improvements — setting a two-year deadline for foreign aid in its present form, for instance.

The bill, passed by the House May 25, authorizes $3,352,170,000 in foreign aid for each of the next two years. Actually the sum is a ceiling for which a subsequent appropriation bill will provide funds.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the measure may be called up Friday for the start of what could be lengthy debate.

While Fulbright's declaration was good news for the administration, the day was not entirely rosy. Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, senior Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, said of Johnson's $89-million development plan:

"Under present circumstances and considering the huge amount of money we are already spending in that area, I think we should go slow in opening up any new program. This seems to me some kind of a new program."

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said he will go ahead with his fight to trim at least $500 million from the bill.

The President made his request in a message, after first announcing it at a news conference.

Fulbright is expected to call a meeting of his committee by Friday to decide whether to handle the request separately or

Cook County Jail Dinner A Success

CHICAGO (AP) — Fred T. Semmers, an affable, middle-aged businessman, ate dinner Tuesday night with three killers condemned to the electric chair. Later, he and 100 other businessmen pledged $40,000 to fight juvenile delinquency.

The dinner at Cook County Jail was sponsored by the Better Boys Foundation, a Chicago group working to reduce teenage crime.

"We thought that if we could get our leading citizens to see the inside of a jail, they would understand penal institutions are as important as hospitals," said Warden Jack R. Johnson, a director of the foundation.

To add to the impact of the visit, Johnson permitted the three condemned men to don suits and join the businessmen. The evening began on a somber note. Before dinner, the guests were frisked and ordered to produce their valuables. Their mug shots were taken.

Next they were herded into columns of twos and toured the jail.

"We don't have a popular cause — fighting juvenile delinquency," said Joe Kellman, president of the Better Boys Foundation. "We raise funds by any legitimate means. We hope the tour will loosen up their pockets a little."

Dinner, held inside a cell block a few yards from the electric chair, was a subdued affair, especially after the three killers were introduced.

Lyman Moore, 33, who shot and killed a bartender, told the diners: "I'm not a classic example. I'm just one of quite a few thousand."

"Since I've been here I've learned to read," said convict George Wilson, a tall Negro who left school after the second grade.

Sponsors of the unusual dinner party had hoped to raise $25,000. For them the night was an unqualified success.

Growth Rate Of Baptists Loses Steam

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The once-booming growth rate of Southern Baptists has lost some of its steam, they noted today. And they're upset about it.

As their 108th annual convention went into its first working day, the Rev. Dr. James L. Sullivan of Nashville, head of the denomination's Sunday School Board, observed:

"The change — the slowdown — in the percentage of growth rate has brought great concern to us all."

For more than a decade Southern Baptists have paced the field among the nation's larger Protestant bodies in membership gains, climbing to first place in size with 10.6 million on the rolls.

The tempo of the upsurge has sagged.

This "has upset many who did not understand its causes," Dr. Sullivan told the huge gathering, including 11,000 registered "messengers" from local churches, a record for a first day.

He said that increased size itself, and the spread of the denomination throughout the nation from its past Southern borders, along with organizational readjustments, has dampened the growth rate.

Moreover, in an increasingly technological environment, he said, "it is more difficult to get people to think in spiritual terms."

The new conditions call for changes in church life, he said. Firing up of the denomination's characteristic evangelical zeal was urged by the convention president, the Rev. Dr. Wayne Dehoney of Jackson, Tenn.

J. M. Roche Named New GM President

DETROIT (AP) — Enrollment in correspondence school classes may jump when word gets around that General Motors' new president James M. Roche got a lot of his education via the mails.

Roche, 58, elected Tuesday as president of the world's largest manufacturing concern, never attended college. As a youth he supplemented his high school education with mail courses in business and commerce from a Chicago correspondence school.

His selection came as no surprise. In recent weeks of speculation about who would succeed retiring GM President John F. Gordon, Roche's name almost always was the first one mentioned.

Although two of his 38 years in the automotive business were spent as Cadillac Division's then one-man public relations department, Roche never sought personal publicity.

His modest, 1½-page official GM biography told of his birth in Elgin, Ill., and his attendance at elementary and high schools there. He took his first job with an Aurora, Ill., utility company, meanwhile undertaking correspondence school courses.

In 1927, at the age of 21, he succumbed to the lure of the auto business and joined a Chicago Cadillac branch as a statistician. A year later, he was assistant manager of the branch.

His rise in Cadillac was climaxed in 1957 when he was named as its general manager and a vice president of General Motors. After 33 years service with the Cadillac Division, he was tapped for corporate duties on June 1, 1960 — five years to the day before he became GM president.

In January 1964, he was named executive vice president, paving the way for him to succeed Gordon who reached the retirement age of 65 last month.

Roche's elevation is expected to touch off a series of job reassignments in GM's top echelon in the next few months.

Cuban Postage Stamp In Honor of Lincoln

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A new Cuban postage stamp bearing Abraham Lincoln's picture has been noted by exiles receiving mail from home.

The 13-centavo stamp, used for mail abroad, carries the Lincoln quotation in Spanish: "You can fool all the people some of the time, some of the people all the time, but not all the people all the time."

This was interpreted here as a jab by Fidel Castro at U.S. international policy.

He is accused by the state of issuing a no funds check for $275 on July 17, 1964, to the Thompson-Greer Motor Company in a wholesale auto transaction.

Accidents

Two cars collided at West Broadway and the Missouri-Pacific railroad spur crossing at 7:26 a.m. Wednesday.

Involved, according to police, were a 1962 Volkswagen, driven east on Broadway by Michael Ray Napier, 21, Warrensburg, and a 1965 Ford, driven west on Broadway by Raymond Torres, 24, 422 West Fifth.

Police indicated that the Torres auto made a left turn in front of the Napier machine. Torres was given a summons for failure to yield the right of way and is to appear in Police Court on June 10, police said.

A 1959 Buick station wagon driven by Bernard A. Hainen, 44, Tipton, and a 1948 Chevrolet truck driven by John Lyles, 50, 705 West Pettis, were involved in an accident at 11:20 p.m. on Highway 50 west of Sedalia near the Highway 50 drive-in.

Both vehicles were traveling east. Trooper Robert Bruce of the Highway Patrol, who investigated, said the accident occurred when the station wagon struck the rear of the truck.

The station wagon was towed to Sedalia by Parks' wrecker. The truck was driven away under its own power.

A tractor-trailer unit flipped over on its right side on Highway 65 two miles north of the D and J junction at 8 a.m. Tuesday.

The driver, Oliver York, 42, Independence, told investigating Highway Patrol Trooper Pete Stohr he was crowded off the road by another truck. The 1965 Kenworth tractor was south bound pulling a trailer loaded with 32,000 pounds of frozen turkeys.

York was shaken up in the mishap, but apparently escaped serious injury.

Two cars collided at the west Smithton spur on Highway 50 at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

Highway Patrol Trooper Pete Stohr reported a 1956 Buick, driven by Louis Hoerman, 60, Smithton, pulled on to Highway 50 from the spur road and was struck in the rear by a 1964 Chevrolet, driven by Richard Dittmer, 22, Smithton.

No injuries were reported.

A tractor-trailer truck left the road and jack-knifed on Highway 50 two miles east of LaMonte at 12:05 p.m. Tuesday.

Delmer Caudell, 28, Avon, Mo., the driver of the eastbound 1958 White tractor and trailer unit, told Highway Patrol Trooper Pete Stohr an emergency switch popped out and locked the brakes on the tractor.

The unit left the road on the north side, but Caudell escaped injury.

Fires In City

Grease in an oven caught fire, but resulted in no damage at 11:45 a.m. Wednesday at the Wm. R. Scherer residence, 1005 West Third. The blaze was out when firemen arrived.

Area Fires

A Sweet Springs community landmark was reduced to ashes about 5 a.m. Wednesday, when fire leveled the three story home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hails, eight miles south of Sweet Springs.

Mr. Hails and his sons, 17-year-old John, and 13-year-old Charles had gone to the milk barn at 4 a.m. Mrs. Hails is visiting a daughter in the State of California. Hails and his sons were unable to start the family pickup and a tractor was taken to the home of a neighbor to call the Sweet Springs Rural Fire Department. Property was insured for $8,000, but valued at considerably more, according to Hails.

It is believed the fire started from an electric stove in the kitchen. Nothing from the house was recovered.

Complete destruction by fire was the result of lightning striking the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Butts, about three miles northwest of Green Ridge, Tuesday morning. The house and all its contents were burned.

Mr. and Mrs. Butts were not at home at the time the fire occurred.

Police Report

Two sizeable gasoline thefts were investigated Wednesday morning by police. Forty gallons of gas was taken

National Parks System Topic For Optimists

Emmett Hood presented the program Tuesday noon at Optimist Club meeting at Bothwell Hotel taking for his subject "The National Park System."

There are at least three or four different kinds of parks in the National Park System, said the speaker, who has visited all but three parks. First there is the type comprising natural scenery; second, national military parks, third, national historical parks and four, national monuments.

Of the historical parks, he stated he felt the most interesting was the one at Philadelphia, with buildings of historical fame, and the second, was Jamestown.

Yellowstone is probably the best known of national parks, founded in 1872. It has mountains, canyons, waterfalls, geysers and even, he said, he saw a petrified tree.

Uncle Sam, Hood said he felt, is missing a good chance for the national park in Missouri at Big Springs.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Clinton Black. Joe Forsee gave the invocation and also led the singing. Mrs. Lillian Maynard was the accompanist.

Guests introduced were Mrs. H. A. Hite and Mrs. Dimmitt Hoffman, guests of Judge Dimmitt Hoffman.

Jim Greishaber, who was recently elected vice-president of the organization, has been transferred to Idaho by Holiday Inn where he has been manager. The president expressed regrets at losing him as a member, and also Don Braden, who has been transferred by the First State Savings and Loan, to Warrensburg. Greishaber stated he had enjoyed being a member of the Optimist Club and the fellowship he had found.

Give Briefing On Gemini Space Trip

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC gave Americans a briefing Tuesday night on the awesome complexities of the forthcoming four-day space mission of Gemini 4 and its two astronauts.

We saw the capsule and the men and even a demonstration of the gleaming white space suit with its blue and white decor in which astronaut Edward H. White II will take his stroll in space but quickly learned that it was not color for beauty's sake but to prevent the wearer from making a mistake in attaching various wires and hoses to the right spots. The 24-foot golden leash which will attach him to the capsule is not an American status symbol but special material to protect the lifeline.

All the detail and all the arrangements were impressive but most impressive of all were the jaunty, jolly, almost casual attitudes of White and James McDivitt who soon will embark on the greatest adventure of their lives.

CBS and ABC will broadcast their briefings tonight.

CBS, which invited viewers to send in their completed "national drivers test" forms filled out while watching its special program last week reported Tuesday its mail count was over 550,000 and letters were still pouring in.

In spite of the enormous toll of lives over the Memorial Day weekend — it was hoped the program would save some lives — CBS counts the experiment a huge success and plans others along the self-test lines.

LBJ Defends Policies

Would Form a Dominican Government of the People

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson says the aim of U.S. policy in the Dominican Republic is the establishment of a broadly based government—one that represents the people and does not include extremists. To accomplish this end, the President told a news conference Tuesday, the United States is looking to the Organization of American States while keeping in touch with Dominican leaders.

"We have no desire to insist on our particular brand of military solution or political solution," Johnson said. "We think it is an inter-American matter, and we want to cooperate fully with them (the OAS)."

The Dominican revolt and U.S. policy toward it dominated Johnson's first nationally broadcast question-and-answer session with newsmen since April 27.

The President defended his policy, including his decision to intervene with more than 21,000 Army paratroopers, airmen and Marines. He said he is bringing another 2,000 leathernecks home and cautioned that a Communist threat remains.

He touched on other matters also, saying: "He is asking Congress to authorize use of $89 million for a Southeast Asia economic and social development program."

The recent flare-up of fighting in Viet Nam was anticipated, Washington is concerned and he will know more about it when Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor returns from Saigon in the next few days.

He plans to address the U.N. General Assembly when it meets in San Francisco June 24-26 to commemorate the 20th anniversary of the organization's founding in the city.

Again and again, though, the reporters returned Johnson to the Dominican problem. One recalled that he had said earlier this month that Communists were seizing control of the revolution and asked if he feels "the Communist threat in the Dominican Republic is now over."

Said Johnson: "No, no... the Communists did not in our judgment originate this revolution, but they joined in it and they participated in it. They were active in it, and in a good many places they were in charge of it."

"We think that following the action that this nation took... more moderate forces took leadership. The Communist elements have not been so active, although their presence is still noted hour by hour."

The 2,000 Marines Johnson is ordering home will leave about 16,000 American military personnel in the Dominican Republic.

At one point U.S. forces were in excess of 21,000.

Of the OAS peace effort Johnson added:

"We hope that they will be able to find agreement between the inter-American body and the folks there that will ultimately lead to an expression of opinion by the people of the Dominican Republic and ultimately lead to a broadly based government that will include none of the extremes."

Tuesday night a special inter-American conference, meeting here until 2 a.m. approved a resolution creating a three-nation mission to help restore peace. The nations represented by the people of the Dominican Republic and ultimately lead to

Couple Lives As Outcasts In Folcroft

FOLCROFT, Pa. (AP) — "I think, in time, we will live a normal, happy life. All that is necessary is for them to see that we live the same way they do."

For almost two years now, since those words were spoken, Horace Baker, 28, and his family have lived as virtual outcasts in their community — the first and still the only Negroes in Delmar Village, a development of brick row homes in this suburb just south of Philadelphia.

The angry mob, the screams of "nigger," the rock-shattered windows, the protective cordon of state police that greeted them when they moved into their new home on Aug. 30, 1963, are only a memory now — one which the embarrassed Borough of Folcroft wants to forget.

But the simple, getting-to-know-you acceptance that Baker so hopefully predicted on that nightmarish moving day never came about.

"It hasn't happened. I was entirely wrong," he now admits. "The situation, the way it happened, made it entirely impossible. I don't think they could really trust me or I could really trust them any more. It would have to take a long, long time."

"Nobody bothers them," said a woman neighbor across the street, "but nobody goes out of their way for them, either."

Folcroft's mayor, Hugh McVicker, describes the atmosphere in Delmar Village these days as "excellent."

"We've had no complaints from the Bakers or the people around them," he says. "Of course, when a man moves into a community, whether he's white or Negro, it's up to him to make his own friends."

Neither Baker, a medical laboratory technician born in Lakeland, Fla., and raised in Miami, nor his wife, a native of Sellersville, Pa., and a registered nurse, had experienced the full impact of a race situation before they moved to Folcroft. It has changed their lives.

If Baker could, would he move into Delmar Village all over again?

His answer is a firm, "No." But equally firm is his determination to stay, now that he's there. It seems some of his optimism has survived after all.

"I would say my plans are to try and reach some mutual level of understanding between the community and myself," he says. "We are all supposed to be so-called reasonable people."

Constellation Is Reborn As a Tavern

KANSAS CITY (AP)—As you enter the airplane the hostess says "Welcome to Flight 42."

You can stay aboard the Super G Constellation for a few minutes or for hours and you might even get high — but you never get anywhere.

Flight 42 is a bonafide airplane, retired for the jet age and reborn as a tavern. It stands at 42nd and Main Streets in midtown Kansas City, its 150-foot wingspread wedged between a cleaning establishment and a pizza parlor.

It's so authentic that customers there for the official opening Tuesday night said they actually imagined the vibration of the engines.

"It's that very authenticity we hope will make it a going thing," says John Glorioso, a one-time University of Missouri football player who is one of the owners. "Some 80 per cent of the people in this country have never been inside an airplane. There's magnetism about an airplane."

The plane, built at a cost of $3,219,550 by Lockheed for Trans World Airlines, was sold to Glorioso and Patrick G. Quirk for some $30,000 by TWA. Glorioso said hauling it and refitting put the cost at $68,000, reduced by some $20,000 by selling off the motors and other equipment.

It seats 70, with some of the seats in the midsection removed for the bar. The pilot's compartment is visible through a plexiglass door.

Glorioso and Quirk are so enthused about the project they already have bought another Connie to be opened as a bar in St. Louis.

"We're going to get it there by floating it down the Missouri River on a barge," says Glorioso.

Skirt Issue Of Banning Union Shops

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican policymakers were reported today to have skirted the explosive issue of state laws banning union shops.

President Johnson wants such laws repealed.

The tipoff on the GOP move came Tuesday when former Sen. Barry Goldwater, who once advocated a national law banning union shops, said he would not insist that the Republican Coordinating Committee declare itself against repeal.

Goldwater, the 1964 GOP presidential nominee, said he realizes that political realities will keep some Republicans from declaring themselves advocates of such legislation.

So Goldwater said he was not pressing the point at the committee's closed session.

Three more sections of GOP policy were due today from National Chairman Ray C. Bliss and the party's congressional leaders, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen and Rep. Gerald R. Ford.

They will be preliminary declarations on job opportunities, foreign affairs and civil rights — approved Tuesday by the coordinating committee.

All three are the handiwork of party task forces set up to study the issues.

A job opportunities study group headed by Charles H. Percy of Illinois found itself divided as soon as it took up the union shop issue.

Johnson has called for repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, which authorizes state laws banning the union shop which require all employees to join unions. Nineteen states have such laws.

Goldwater contends they are morally and constitutionally right.

In the foreign affairs field, Republicans generally have stood by Johnson's moves in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

"I think the President did what had to be done," Goldwater said.

GOP criticism was aimed at long-range foreign policy questions.

"I think you get the feeling that this is an administration that reacts to developments rather than initiates policies," said Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton.

"This administration," added former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, "has shown commendable ability in fighting fires but has been derelict in preventing them."

Track Team Could Be Loser

War Between Amateurs And NCAA Going Strong Again

NEW YORK (AP) — The war between the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Amateur Athletic Union over control of amateur athletics in the United States is going full blast again today. The big loser could be the track team the United States will send against the Russians at Kiev July 31.

The end to an uneasy truce between the organizations came Tuesday when Everett D. Barnes, president of the NCAA, warned its members to boycott the National AAU Championships at San Diego on June 26-27.

Barnes declared in a special memorandum from Hamilton, N.Y., where he is director of athletics at Colgate University, that participation of college-eligible athletes in the AAU Championships would place the student's institution in violation of the NCAA by-laws and subject to enforcement procedures.

Barnes emphasized that there would be a violation "whether or not the student represents his institution, a club or competes unattached."

This placed in jeopardy the prospect of a strong U.S. team being selected for the dual meet with the Soviet Union. The first two finishers in each event at the AAU Championships traditionally have been named as the U.S. team.

Barnes added, however, that the directive against participation in the AAU Championships "should not mean that NCAA athletes need be eliminated from the team competing against Russia. They should be permitted to qualify through

Records Should Fall In 14th NAIA Meet

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) — Records should tumble this weekend at the 14th annual NAIA National Track and Field Championships if athletes can match peak performances of the season.

Eleven of the existing NAIA records have been bettered and one tied so far this season. Six events — the 440 yard hurdles, three mile run, discus, long jump, triple jump and the javelin — have withstood the record-breaking spree.

John Camien of Emporia, Kan., State, has lowered his record mile mark of 4:04.3 to 4:01.7.

Two new events will be run for team points for the first time this year, the 440-yard and mile relays. Both are expected to be dominated by Southern University's crack foursomes, who have covered the shorter distance in 40 seconds flat and last week tied the world record in the mile relay at 3:04.5.

Myers Beats The Stomper; Fenced In

"Don't fence me in" was the theme in the final event on the Tuesday night wrestling show, — but the did, Sonny Myers won the affair against the Stomper after a hectic night of battling in the ring surrounded by hog wire fence. Bouncing their foreheads together drew blood and it only added to the excitement for the ringersiders.

It was also a rough evening for the referee, Richard Moody, who took it on the chin a couple of times from the Stomper, who was agitated over his final decision for the third fall. But Myers came to his aid, and between the three a merry time was had by all, much to the satisfaction and entertainment of those standing around the ring — outside the fence.

Stomper, after 15 minutes and 20 seconds, took the opening fall after he had stomped Myers head into the canvass, and then followed up with a heavy body press. Myers, forehead bleeding, was seeing "red" and he maneuvered Stomper around and grabbed him. Then, with a pile driver, he jarred the Stomper and followed with a quick press to win in two minutes. The third fall went to Myers in three minutes, using a series of drop kicks and press. The final drop kick came while Moody was riding Stomper's back to break him from Myers.

Stomper and Moody went sprawling, but Moody came up in time to get the quick count of three to give Myers the fall. Stomper complained about the quick count and put one on Moody's jaw, which was followed up with his jaw running into Myers fist.

Bob Geigel and Ray Duran took the team-tag event from Ronnie Reed and Steve Bolus, in another hectic event. Reed succeeded in taking the first fall in nine minutes and 10 seconds using a reverse leg lock. Duran came back in the second period and when tagged in to meet Reed, applied several knee drops and press to beat Reed in three minutes and 20 seconds. Geigel took the third fall by beating Bolus in six minutes and 25 seconds using the bow and arrow hold, forcing Bolus to give up.

In the opening event Ronnie Reed and Ray Duran went to a 15-minute time limit, one-fall draw. It was 15 minutes filled with action and excitement. In the special 15 minute time limit event between Steve Bolus and Bob Geigel, Bolus was declared the winner after 14 minutes and 40 seconds when Moody disqualified him for failure to heed to the referee's instructions.

Wrestling will be held next Tuesday night at the park, the card to be announced later.

Cards Oust Giants; A's Idle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — The St. Louis Cardinals pulled out of a five-game losing streak Tuesday with a 2-1 victory over the Giants at San Francisco.

The Cardinals will entertain National League leader Los Angeles tonight at Busch Stadium in St. Louis. Don Drysdale (8-3) will start for the Dodgers against Redbird pitcher Ray Washburn (3-2). The series is the first in a 17-game homestand for St. Louis.

Ray Sadecki, who started a seven-game winning streak for St. Louis two weeks ago, was the man who stopped the nose-diver. He pitched a five-hitter at the Giants and held on while Cardinal defense and singles won the game.

The Giants' only run came in the second when Willie McCovey blasted one over the centerfield fence to give the Giants a 1-0 lead.

Bill White, who had three singles, led off the fourth with a single and scampers all the way to third on an error. Ken Boyer grounded out as White scored to tie it. The Cardinals got the winning run in the sixth when Dick Groat singled Boyer home.

There were several fine fielding plays by the Redbird infield and leftfielder Lou Brock made a running catch of a drive from McCovey's bat in the ninth inning to ice the game.

Kansas City, idle Tuesday, takes on the Baltimore Orioles at Kansas City tonight. Fred Talbot (3-3) will pitch for the Athletics and Steve Barber (3-4) will be on the mound for the Orioles.

Sedalians In State Tournament

Two Sedalia boys who finished first and second in the Jaycee Junior Golf Tournament will represent the city in the state tournament at Columbia next weekend, June 11 and 12.

Mike DeLozier, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. DeLozier, successfully defended his title as tournament champion Saturday morning with a 74 over the 18 hole competition at Elm Hills Golf Course.

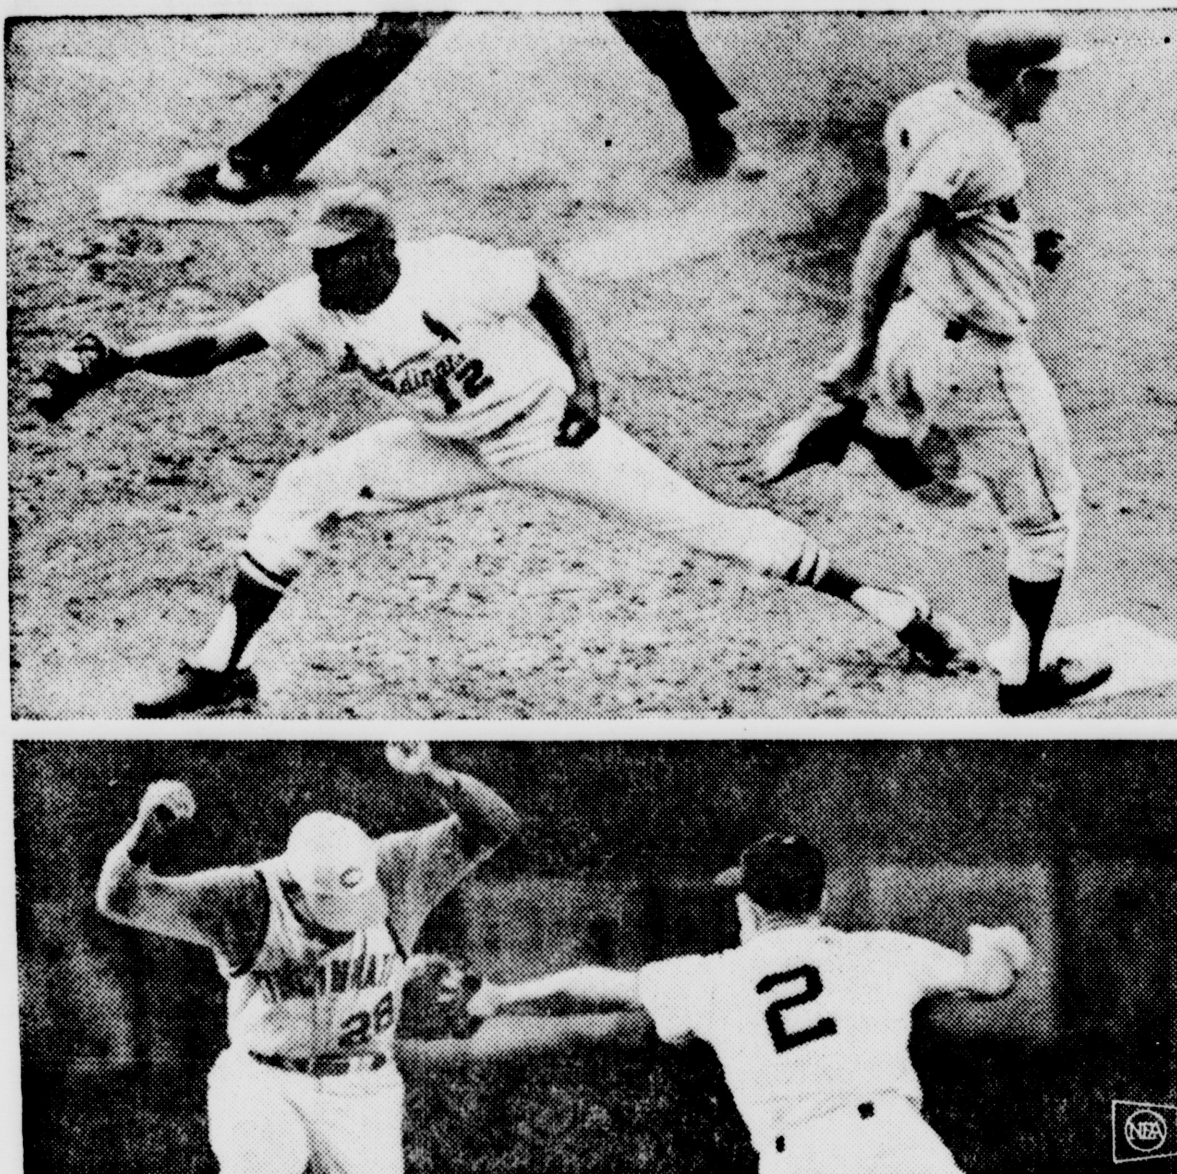

Bill Herrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Herrick, carded an 83 for runnerup honors and the right to join DeLozier at the state event.

The state tournament will be held in conjunction with a Jaycee sports spectacular including competition in track and field (Junior Champ) and in Junior Tennis. Four top winners in the Junior Golf competition will travel to the national tournament in Houston, Tex., later this summer.

In the local tournament, Keith Yount and Terry Feig tied for the novice trophy, a competition for boys who have not previously participated in the Jaycee tourney. On a sudden-death playoff both boys carded fives on the first hole, but on the second hole Yount dropped a long putt for the trophy while Feig missed his putt by two inches. Both boys reached the second green in two strokes.

Trophies were distributed by John Lippert, local chairman, and Bill Phillips.

STRETCHED OUT—Bill White, top, of the St. Louis Cardinals needed every inch to take Dick Groat's throw and retire Billy Cowan of the New York Mets. Meanwhile, Nellie Fox (2) of the Houston Astros lunges for Vada Pinson of the Cincinnati Reds.

Veale May Set Record In Strikeouts

By MURRAY CHASS, Associated Press Sports Writer

If Bob Veale can strike out 16 batters when he's tired, how many can he strike out when he's fresh?

The giant Pittsburgh pitcher may get a chance to answer that question before too long, and the reply could be a major league strikeout record.

Veale fanned 16 Phillies Tuesday night as the Pirates defeated Philadelphia 4-0 for their 12th straight victory. Rain delayed the game twice for a total of two hours and five minutes.

"It made me a little tired," He was so tired he came with in two of equaling the major league record of 18 strikeouts, set by Bob Feller in 1938 and tied by Sandy Koufax in 1959 and 1962.

Veale's 16 were the most in the majors this season, broke his own team record of 15 and increased his season total to 77, tying him with Don Drysdale for second place in the National League.

The 6-foot-6 left-hander, whose 250 strikeouts led the majors last season, also recorded his third shutout, matching Bob Gibson's major league-leading total, and gained his third straight complete game, all in the Pirates' winning streak.

Veale, now 5-2, has allowed only two runs in those three victories and has sliced his earned run average from 3.74 to 2.70.

He fanned power hitters Dick Stuart and Rich Allen three times each and received a standing ovation when he fanned Tony Gonzalez in the ninth inning for his 16th strikeout.

In other NL games, Milwaukee edged Houston 2-1. St. Louis nipped San Francisco 2-1 and New York whipped Chicago 10-5. In the only American League contest, Los Angeles beat Boston 4-1.

The Pirates, in extending the longest winning streak in the majors this season, knocked out starter Art Mahaffey in the first inning, scoring two runs on singles by Bob Bailey and Bill Vir-

Clay Gets Fighter Of Month Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavy weight champion Cassius Clay's first-round knockout of Sonny Liston earned him Ring Magazine's Fighter of the Month Award today.

"Innundated regarding fixes are ridiculous, and full credit must be given Clay for his victory," said Ring editor Nat Fleischer.

Liston was dropped from the No. 1 contender's position to fourth in Ring's monthly ratings. Former champion Floyd Patterson was advanced from second to first, and Ernie Terrell, the World Boxing Association's champion, was moved up from third to second.

George Chuvalo, the Canadian champion, was booted from fourth to third.

Pioneer In NFL

Heart Attack Fells Founder Of Packers

GREEN BAY, Wis. — (AP) — Earl L. (Curly) Lambeau, founder of the Green Bay Packers and only coach ever to win three consecutive National Football League titles, died Tuesday, apparently of a heart attack. He was 67.

Lambeau turned Green Bay, then a town of only 37,000, into the crown capital of the NFL by guiding the Packers to the championship in 1929, 1930 and 1931. He won three more titles before ending a 31-year Packer career in 1949.

Lambeau collapsed late Tuesday while mowing a lawn at the home of a friend at Sturgeon Bay, 40 miles northeast of Green Bay. He was dead when a fire rescue squad arrived.

A pioneer in the NFL, Lambeau was credited with turning the forward pass into a potent pro weapon while coach and quarterback of the Packers in the 1920s.

He was one of 17 charter members of the National Professional Football Hall of Fame.

Lambeau compiled a 236-111-23 record at Green Bay with only three losing seasons in more than three decades. But two of them came back to back in 1948 and 1949 and he resigned early the following year in a factional feud with a younger Packer front office.

Lambeau moved to the Chicago Cardinals as coach for two years and bowed out of the NFL at the end of 1954 after three seasons as coach of the Washington Redskins.

The Packers' founder was cutting grass with a power mower when a Sturgeon Bay photographer, Herb Reynolds, approached. Lambeau told Reynolds he needed the exercise. Suddenly, Reynolds said, Lambeau paled and collapsed.

Friends and former players showered the football trailblazer with tributes Tuesday night.

"I doubt if the league would exist today without the likes of Lambeau," said George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears.

"His vision and foresight made the Packers and the National Football League what they are today," said Buckets Goldenberg, Green Bay restaurateur who played guard for Lambeau from 1933 to 1945.

The Packers were the children of a 1919 street-corner conversation between Lambeau and a friend. They were born as a semi-pro team financed by a packing house. Lambeau recruited high school friends. At the end of the first season, each player received $16.75.

Green Bay joined the American Professional Football Association in 1921. The next year, the association became the National Football League with Green Bay as a charter member.

Lambeau was quarterback for the Packers for the first decade and threw 45 passes in one game in an era when football was a ground sport.

He led giant-killing Green Bay to NFL titles again in 1936, 1939 and 1944. Green Bay, although grown to 62,000, remains by far the smallest entry in the NFL.

After five seasons at Chicago and Washington, Lambeau quit with a final victory — a 30-27 triumph for his College All-Stars over the Cleveland Browns in 1955.

Lambeau was a native of Green Bay and played college football at Notre Dame.

Funeral services were set tentatively for Saturday at Green Bay.

He is survived by one son, Donald E.; a brother, Oliver B., and a sister, Mrs. Frances Beatrice Evard, all of Green Bay.

Gulf Pearl May Win At Epsom Downs

EPSON, England (AP) — Gulf Pearl, an American-owned colt, was given a good chance to win the 166th running of the famed English Derby at Epsom Downs today.

Gulf Pearl, owned by Jack Whitney of New York, the former American ambassador to the court of St. James, was rated the second choice to the favored Sea Bird II, a French colt.

Snead Heads Big List Of Golfers

NEW YORK (AP) — Slammin' Sammy Snead, winner of more than 100 tournaments but never the big one, heads an imposing list of golfing elite who will attempt to qualify next week for the 65th U.S. Open Golf Championship.

Others who must battle their way into the tournament, to be played June 17-20 over the Bel-lerive Country Club course in St. Louis, include former Open winners Cary Middlecoff, Tommy Bolt and Lew Worsham; ex-PGA Champions Denny Shute, Jack Burke Jr., Lionel Hebert, Jay Hebert, Chandler Harper, Jim Ferrier, Doug Ford, Jerry Barber, and Walter Burkemo, and two-time U.S. Amateur champion Deane Beman.

A total of 459 golfers — 348 pros and 111 amateurs — will play for 119 places at 13 sectional sites next Monday and Tuesday. Survivors will join 31 exempt players, including defending champion Ken Venturi, at Bellerive's first tee Thursday, June 17.

This will mark the Open's first tournament under the re-

Small Field Ready For Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK (AP) — The smallest field in 22 years appeared in prospect today for the 97th running of $125,000-added Belmont Stakes at Aqueduct race track Saturday.

Tom Rolfe, Dapper Dan, Hail to All, Selari and La Cima shaped up as the probable starters in the 1 1/4-mile test, the windup of the Triple Crown events for 3 year-olds. This would be the smallest Belmont field since Count Fleet romped by 25 lengths over two opponents in 1953.

Fight Provided Some Steam For Bill To Outlaw Pro Boxing

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay heavyweight title fight provided some of the steam Tuesday as a bill that would outlaw professional boxing in Connecticut rolled through the state House of Representatives.

The bill now goes to the Senate. "I'm just wondering," said Rep. Benjamin F. Riva Jr., D-Brooklyn, "how long the intelligence of the people of Connecticut can continue to be insulated by a fiasco such as took place a few days ago in Maine."

The comment was one of several — all uncomplimentary — about Clay's first-round knockout of Liston in the bout at Lewiston, Maine, last week.

The fight was shown in Connecticut via closed-circuit television.

Mrs. LBJ Setting Out For Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP) — With bathing suits and sports clothes packed, Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson sets out today for a five-day visit to the tropical Virgin Islands.

A college commencement speech Thursday is the only business ahead for the First Lady. She will congratulate a pioneer group of 13 graduates at the newly founded College of the Virgin Islands.

The rest of the time, though, the president's wife plans to get the first vacation she has had on her own from White House duties since the Johnsons came there in November 1963.

White House spokesmen say they hope the First Lady can get plenty of privacy at Caneel Bay, the Rockefeller-owned tourist resort on isolated St. John's Island in the Caribbean. Mrs. Johnson, her brother, Tony Taylor of Santa Fe, N.M.; his wife, and the First Lady's social secretary, Bess Abell, held reservations, tourist class, aboard a commercial plane for a four-hour flight to the islands.

Wine Lover Exchange Draws House Laughs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two House members drew guffaws from their colleagues with an exchange over wine and wine lovers.

Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, who watches over State Department spending with a suspicious eye, wanted to know Tuesday if the State Department appropriation contained any funds "for an official wine taster."

Rep. John J. Rooney, the Brooklyn Democrat who conducted hearings on the appropriation and has an equally suspicious eye, told Gross, "There is no money in the bill for wine tasting or wine bibbing."

"Wine bibbing?" asked Gross. "That's right," said Rooney. He spelled it out. "What in the world is a wine bibber?" asked Gross. "Why that's a guy who drinks too much wine," said Rooney. "Oh," said Gross. "Back home we call them winos."

To Trail Capt. Bligh From Tofua to Timor

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Navigator Doug Olifant, 43, sailed in an 18-foot open boat today in an attempt to repeat Capt. William Bligh's 3,618-mile voyage from Tofua, in the Tonga Islands, to Timor.

Olifant's two-masted Bird of Juno has a 5-horsepower motor and a radio transmitter and receiver. He will use the motor until he reaches Tofua but not on the stretch that Bligh sailed. He hopes to cover that section in 48 days.

Bligh and 18 seamen sailed from Tofua to Timor in 1789 after being cast adrift in a 23-foot open boat by the Bounty mutineers.

To Light Capitals For Gemini Pilots

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Melbourne, capital of the state of Victoria, and Perth, capital of Western Australia, will light up the sides of their largest buildings Thursday night in salute to the American astronauts as they pass over in the Gemini 4 capsule.

The lights are expected to be visible to the astronauts on their 14th and 15th orbits.

Governors To Discuss Development

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — The governors of four states—Arkansas, Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma — will meet here Friday to discuss a regional economic development program for the area.

Under discussion will be the best means of obtaining a program along the lines of the recently enacted Appalachia program.

Attending the session will be Governors Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas; William H. Avery of Kansas; Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri and Henry Bellmon of Oklahoma.

A delegation from Arkansas, Oklahoma and Missouri testified last April before a Senate public works subcommittee that was considering a measure which among other things, would authorize creation of an Ozark regional development commission to plan the area development.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said investments of the various states and their political subdivisions would be coordinated by a commission for maximum economic advantage.

At Little Rock, Governor Faubus said he had been assured by the state's Congressional delegation that President Johnson will "look with favor" on a $250 to $300 million Appalachia-type program for the Ozarks.

Governor Avery, whose state is at the edge of the Ozark area, said "I certainly don't equate anything in Kansas with what we are told we could find in the Appalachians area."

He added that he was interested in the discussion of an accelerated highway construction program for the area.

Conflict Of Interest Bill Is Approved

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—A conflict of interest bill, already passed by the House, was approved Tuesday by the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Two years ago a similar bill died on the Senate calendar in closing hours of the session. This one carries some committee amendments that would send it back to the House if it gets past the Senate.

The current measure would require lobbyists to register and report their expenditures and would bar a public official at either the state or local level from using his position for private gain.

The governor, lieutenant governor and legislators would have to report any substantial interest they might have in a bill.

It was the approval of Gov. Warren E. Hearnes, who said he would consider calling a special session if the regular session does not pass it.

Gene Walsh, the governor's legal aide, said it would provide guide lines for all public officials and would give the public confidence in them.

Sen. Jack Jones, D-Carrollton, acting chairman of the committee, said he probably would vote for the bill but expressed some doubts.

"I never have seen the wolf in this thing," he said, "what are we trying to correct?"

He said monkeyshines still could occur in state administrative agencies but Walsh said the bill is broad enough to cover them as well as city, school district and other local units of government.

Walsh quoted the governor as reminding the legislators in an earlier message that "those in public life, like Caesar's wife, must be above suspicion."

The bill passed the House unanimously. That promoted veteran Sen. Michael Kennedy, D-St. Louis, to inquire, "doesn't this bill affect members of the House?"

Mrs. M. Kendrick Honored at Dinner

Attending the contributive dinner were all Mrs. Kendrick's children and their families. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Junior Elliott and daughter, Mrs. Marie Kniper, Bobbie Kendrick, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Edward Kendrick and son, Ronnie, C. C. Carver, Mr. and Mrs. Doc Daudney.

Workshop Plan Bill Is Signed By Gov. Hearnes

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — A bill to set up a program of "sheltered workshops" for the handicapped and mentally retarded was signed by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes Tuesday.

Groups which set up special workshops for the handicapped will receive state aid at a rate of $2 for every six-hour day worked by those being aided in the special protected environment.

The cost is estimated at $119,600 the first year and $159,500 yearly after that. The bill goes into effect Oct. 13.

Also signed were bills to:

Give magistrate courts as well as circuit courts the right to grant hardship driving privileges and change the point system law so no driver will suffer loss of points for an equipment violation—a recommendation of the traffic safety study committee.

Merge the jobs of Director of Public Buildings and Director of Planning and Construction into one job under the Planning and Construction title at $19,500 a year, John D. Paulus, an architect, holds both jobs.

Prevent double taxation in county library districts annexed by a city.

Make the state law conform with federal on sale of narcotic derivatives sold over the counter.

Wilkinson To Visit Hospital As Consultant

FULTON, Mo. (AP) — Fred Wilkinson, director of the state Department of Corrections, will visit Fulton State Hospital this week as an informal consultant to make possible recommendations concerning maximum security facilities at the Biggs Building, the division for criminally insane patients.

Dr. Donald B. Peterson, hospital superintendent, said he sought the advice of Wilkinson Monday as a result of the break-out by five patients from the Biggs Building early Memorial Day.

Said Dr. Peterson: "With this help we will study both the plant and current security practices to insure that every possible measure is taken, appropriate to this specialized hospital setting, within which some potentially dangerous patients are to be treated, to prevent further escapes."

Dr. Peterson said a hopeful note is the capital funds request now before the legislature for rehabilitation and additional construction of the Biggs building. An appropriation of $1,825,000 has been passed by the House and is under consideration in the Senate.

ARMY CONTRACT — The Army awarded Hughes Tool Company a contract to build 174 light observation helicopters (LOH) in what may eventually become the largest Army aircraft procurement of all time. The contract totaled $14,966,964 over three years and company officials believe it will be extended to total at least 4,000 helicopters. Designated the OH-6A by the Army, the Hughes LOH will go into production immediately with delivery of the first ship to the Army scheduled for the summer of 1966.

Truth Still Shadowed

Hinge Of Victory Remains Doubtful In S. Viet Nam

By HAL BOYLE

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — An open letter home: Dear Frances and Tracy: Well, sweet ducks, I hope you are not spending the old man into bankruptcy while I'm away and too sentimental to cut off your credit. Spend less, live more.

You may be wondering what is going on over here. So do I. When I was here 48 hours, I thought I knew for sure what the truth was here. Now that I have been here toward 48 days, I'm not so sure what is untrue.

Perhaps that is a growth toward education and is typical. In any case, I would like to find out and will continue to seek to learn what I can know.

What it seems to me that we are doing is pouring out billions of American dollars and the earnestness of, eventually, perhaps hundreds of thousands of well-trained American soldiers on the doubtful hinge of victory. The hinge, I suspect, is whether we stay in the spending area long enough to create a middle class. Can our dollars and our soldiers and our dreams make permanence here?

And that hinge, of course, is whether the Vietnamese can among themselves create a stable government that is able to achieve and reflect their national glory — and not resent our help too much.

Well, enough of politics. I suppose you may be more interested in personal things.

There is great dignity and sweetness among these people in the midst of the dire and perilous lives they live. They have time for kindness if you have, and sometimes if you haven't.

They respond immediately to a courtesy, a kindness, a smile and a help. Without being fatuous about it, I think if they can make a methodical government attentive to the people's goals then our billions spent here and our presence here will be worthwhile. Our support to their own goals of dignity won't have been wasted.

Of course, sometimes homesick men away from home fasten their dreams on the performance of an individual.

St. Paul's 7th Grade Class Is Graduated

The stage of the new gymnasium of St. Paul's Lutheran School was the setting for the seventh grade graduation Friday evening with Richard Rolf, principal of St. Paul's Lutheran School, Stover, giving the address.

The graduation exercises began with the processional and invocation by Rev. Walter Strickert, pastor of the church.

A welcome was given by Kayrene Pohlmeier and Debbie Schroeder played a piano solo. Stan Cowan and Ken Roter-mund read the Class Will and the Class Prophecy was by Gail Cole, Debbie Peterman and Marsha Sanders.

William Bergmann, chairman of the board of Christian Education, presented the diplomas to the class assisted by Clifford Koenig, principal of the school. The valedictorian, Dorothea Strickert, gave the speech of farewell and the closing hymn was sung by all the school children. The assembly was led in prayer for the graduates by Bill Morrow, a sixth grader.

Members of the graduating class are: Gail Cole, Stanley Cowan, Debra Peterman, Kayrene Pohlmeier, Kenneth Roter-mund, Marsha Sanders and Dorothea Strickert.

All plan to continue their education at Smith-Cotton High School this fall.

center here our "Miss Viet Nam" is a 13-year-old orphan we call "Little One."

She is tiny, black-haired, ready-smiling, works like a Trojan, cleaning and polishing and serving drinks. Everybody tries to teach her a new English word every day, and she blooms under our adulation like a flower responsive to a bright sun.

She makes us all feel better every day. She's our dream daughter away from home. We have plans to buy her a smart uniform, and long-term plans to raise a fund to educate her. That means our conscience to her own future will force us to lose her. We all hate to face up to that, but we shall.

Oh, I guess I started to write you about something else — but this is what I have written. I'll have to tell you later about how I've figured how to whip the enemy Viet Cong — in 12 easy years.

Your homesick husband and father, Harold.

Married Tuesday

Marina Begins New Life With Husband In Dallas

FATE, Tex. (AP) — Marina Oswald, widow of President John F. Kennedy's assassin, and an electronics technician she met a month ago began married life today in a white brick house on a quiet street in a Dallas suburb.

Mrs. Oswald, 23, a pretty, Russian-born blonde, and Kenneth J. Porter, 27, a divorced father of two, were married in this small north Texas farming community Tuesday.

The couple was introduced a month ago at the home where Porter was staying, just two doors from Mrs. Oswald's residence in Richardson.

The marriage ceremony, performed in the office of a justice of the peace, followed a hectic day in which the couple went to Durant, Okla., for a blood test and to Sherman, Tex., for a marriage license. They avoided a three-day Texas waiting period by getting the blood tests in Oklahoma.

The wedding party, which included a best man and a woman attendant, eluded newsmen leaving Durant.

Mrs. Bill Clark, a neighbor, said the couple met shortly after Porter, a friend of her son Joe, moved into a room at the Clark house.

Mrs. Oswald apparently liked Porter from the beginning, Joe Clark related, and confided recently that she loved him. He said Porter "was crazy about" Mrs. Oswald's two young daughters but "had kept pretty quiet about their plans."

The newlyweds arrived at their home in Richardson hours after the ceremony. They allowed pictures but answered few questions from newsmen.

The bride, wearing a white dress with bows on the skirt, said she felt "wonderful—I just want to be alone with my husband."

After only a few minutes at the house the couple left for an undisclosed destination.

A Dallas reporter and photographer, tipped about the wedding plans, started following the couple at 6 a.m. Tuesday as they began a 90-mile drive to Durant. Newsmen lost the trail, however, as the party doubled back to Sherman for the marriage license.

Mary Chumbley, a deputy clerk at the courthouse, said they "seemed anxious to get away, to escape publicity." She didn't ask Mrs. Oswald a usual question about previous marriages because "I already knew that."

They declined an offer to call a Sherman preacher, Porter is a member of the Church of Christ and his bride a member of the Greek Orthodox Church.

At Rockwall, just northeast of Dallas, Sheriff W. J. Price said the best man — identified only by the name of Woolridge — knocked at his back door to ask where they could find a justice of the peace.

Since that official was out of town, Price escorted them to Justice of the Peace Carl Leonard Jr. in the neighboring village of Fate, where Leonard also runs a garage.

"I didn't know it was Marina Oswald until the sheriff introduced her," said Leonard, who was plowing. "I was still dressed in my back yard khakis."

"I'd have performed the ceremony in the house but I'd left my book at the office and they were in a hurry. Said they were trying to stay out of sight of reporters. I just read the regular double-ring civil ceremony."

Friends said the couple drove to a reception in Dallas after the ceremony. It was nearly 9 p.m. before they returned home and scurried past newsmen.

Clark, who works with Porter at Texas Instruments, Inc., described the groom as a "hard-working, quiet, reserved type."

Wanda Avora Porter divorced Porter in January 1964, charging harsh and cruel treatment. Their children are a daughter, Wanda, 7, and a son, Connie, 4. Mrs. Porter is a data analyst for Collins Radio Co.

The new Mrs. Porter has changed noticeably since she attended the funeral of her first husband, slain just two days after he shot President Kennedy on Nov. 22, 1963.

Chance To Eat 'Dream Breakfast'

TOPEKA (AP) — Three youngsters, who live at St. Vincent's Home, Topeka, were given a chance Tuesday to eat a "dream breakfast."

Cathy Dycus, 10; Roger Pierce, 12, and John Torres, 10, were given a chance to eat the breakfasts they had dreamed up in a contest sponsored by the American Dairy Association of Kansas.

Cathy had a breakfast which included "a field made of green ice cream with peppermint sticks around the edge for a fence to keep two handfuls of 'crispy critters' in the center."

Roger had a checkerboard made of strawberry and vanilla ice cream with a strawberry on each vanilla square and a piece of banana on each strawberry square. Around the edge was a border of breakfast cereal.

John had a banana split with a breakfast cereal on top and smothered with mounds of whipped cream.

recent months and was seen with escorts at Dallas night clubs. She studied English for eight weeks at the University of Michigan and then spent time in Arizona working on her life story for book publication.

She bought a small brick house in Richardson soon after Oswald was slain. Less than two months ago she moved into the three-bedroom white brick home she now occupies.

Seek Dominican Elections Under Supervision of OAS

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican junta proposed Tuesday night that elections supervised by the Organization of American States be held as soon as possible in this divided Caribbean nation.

The junta said all "democratic parties recognized by the Central Electoral Board" should be allowed to participate in the election. This presumably would include the Dominican Revolutionary party of ex-President Juan Bosch in whose name the rebellion was launched April 25.

It was not clear, however, whether the junta would allow Bosch to return from exile in Puerto Rico to be a candidate.

He won the presidency overwhelmingly in a free election in 1962, but military leaders overthrew him the next year.

The junta president, Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, discussed the election proposal with U.S. Ambassador William Tapley Bennett Jr. and OAS Secretary-General Jose A. Mora before the announcement.

President Johnson told a news conference in Washington Tuesday that U.S. policy in the Dominican Republic aims at establishment of a broadly based government that represents the people and does not include extremists.

"We have no desire to insist on our particular brand of military solution or political solution," Johnson said. "We think it is an inter-American matter, and we want to cooperate fully with them (the OAS)."

Following the President's announcement that 2,000 more U.S. Marines were being withdrawn from Santo Domingo, helicopters began flying them to U.S. naval vessels offshore. Their departure reduces the U.S. contingent to 2,100 Marines and 14,200 paratroopers serving with 1,500 Latin-American troops in the inter-American peace force.

About 1,700 other Marines and 1,700 paratroopers had been pulled out previously. The rebel chief, Col. Francisco Caamaño Deno, told newsmen Sunday the quicker American forces left, the sooner the Dominican crisis would be settled.

Rebel forces captured three U.S. paratroopers Tuesday after they strayed into the rebel stronghold in downtown Santo Domingo. Caamaño personally released them 3½ hours later to a commission of the United Nations and the OAS.

Caamaño expressed hope his troops would receive as good treatment if they are captured. The paratroopers were identified as 2nd Lt. Alvin R. Gelb of Scranton, Pa., and Pfc. Antonio Hernandez of San Antonio, Tex., and Dennis Eppers of Kenosha, Wis.

"We made a wrong turn and the next thing we knew we were in the middle of what I thought were Dominican soldiers," Gelb said. "But it turned out they weren't. We were treated okay."

Despite opposition to Mora from both the rebels and the junta, he announced Tuesday night that he had won agreement from both sides on neutralization of the National Palace and collection of garbage in rebel territory.

The international security zone is being extended to include the battered palace, former seat of government that has been the scene of repeated cease-fire violations.

Words Rather Than Guns

Communities comparable to Sedalia have their trials and tribulations in city government. Disagreements arise. Tempers flare. Harsh words are exchanged. Finally some compromise or accord is reached.

All this without the firing of a shot, the death or injury of members of the contending parties or harm to any bystander, let alone property damage.

How unlike, but how much preferred, is this to what happens in cities such as Santo Domingo. There lives are extinguished. Here feelings are merely hurt. This is the kind of difference which in Central Missouri makes life expectancy something to look forward to.

Consider the ruckus over Community Antenna Television, the premature and impulsive passage by city council of an ordinance concerning it; a request to the courts for a declaratory judgment; the current petitions circulated in which resignations of five councilmen are requested. There are a lot of chips on a lot of shoulders. However, in finality, no fistic blows will be struck, no pistols or swords drawn, no machine guns rattled.

May it always be that way among us in settling our squabbles. No revolution by gunfire from the hands of hot-blooded partisans. Rather a resort to court actions, petitions for relief and other democratic and legal methods of reaching an equitable settlement of differences of opinion.

Time and again in areas of dispute over community problems whether inside or outside of city hall, argumentation has provided the best weapon and more often than not the best solution of the enigmas which confront our people from time to time.

There's a lot more merit to talking it out than shooting it out.

That's what Sedalians like about Sedalia.

Nonsensical Taboo

In their attempt to will the nation of Israel and the Jewish people out of existence, the Arab nations have come up with some weird stratagems.

One trade regulation provides that any ship that has ever been owned by Israelis is blacklisted permanently. It may not dock at any Arab port or carry any Arab crew or cargo. This applies even after it has been sold and sails under a new flag.

This is a rather mystical taboo, remarks one observer. "It presupposes that all formerly Israeli ships yearn for Zion, that although the captain now speaks French or Serbo-Croat, the engine room still has a Hebrew heart. Strange."

street. They will enter the contest for the grand prize this fall.

James Quinn, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Quinn, of West Fifth street, a member of the 1925 graduating class of the Chaminade College, St. Louis, made the highest average in his class of 40 members entitling him to the honor of valedictorian. He will enter Georgetown University, Washington, D. C. next fall to study law.

Two Nations Still On Collision Course

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Last March, writing from Moscow, I reported that the United States and Russia were on a collision course. The reason, I said, was that American bombing of North Viet Nam which had cut the ground out from under Khrushchev's co-existence policy, set the Chinese to chortling that co-existence wouldn't work, and played into the hands of the old Stalinist, anti-American clique inside the Kremlin.

Last week, Cyrus Eaton, the Cleveland industrialist, returning from Moscow, reported that Premier Kosygin had told him American policy in North Viet Nam had left Russia with no alternative but to fight and that Moscow would retaliate against American forces "with everything we have" unless the bombing of North Viet Nam comes to an end.

Next day, Secretary of State Dean Rusk issued what was described as a stern warning to Russia and China not to widen the war in Viet Nam. He revealed that a new SAM missile site had just been sighted in the North. Rusk, when working for John F. Kennedy, had held Russian SAM missile sites to be purely defensive when constructed in Cuba only ninety miles away. But he viewed them with alarm 9,000 miles away.

Previously, Russian diplomats had conveyed informal but quite definite warnings to the State Department that if Russian missile sites in North Viet Nam were bombed, Russia would have no alternative but to retaliate. They have not, of course, been bombed ninety miles off the Florida coast at any time since placed there four years ago.

Dangerous Diplomacy

So runs the dangerous game of diplomatic tic-tac-toe between two nations which have the power, with a single push of the nuclear button, to wipe out sixty of each other's major cities. Like small boys with chips on their shoulders, each dares the other, while each accumulates more chips and more grievances.

The United States has now sent or is sending a total of 65,000 troops to Viet Nam, three times the number President Johnson found there when he took over for the late John F. Kennedy.

The North Vietnamese government is now stripping its key government ministries from its capital, Hanoi, and moving them to areas where they cannot be easily bombed. This is the act of a government preparing for a long siege, not one ready to talk peace.

Reports from South Viet Nam indicate that the Viet Cong is ready to take advantage of the monsoon rains by coming out of the jungle for prolonged ground battles; also is preparing to set up embassies in every major country to claim that it, not the frequently changing government in Saigon, is the true representative of this troubled area.

In brief, the American policy of bombing North Viet Nam, sold to President Johnson by Gen. Maxwell Taylor and White House adviser McGeorge Bundy, has been a miserable failure.

Taylor's Flop

Taylor had left the Army during the Eisenhower administration to write a book, "The Uncertain Trumpet," in which he advocated small brush-fire wars for settling international problems rather than relying on the Eisenhower policy to push-button war.

Taylor sold his ideas to John F. Kennedy, who brought him back into government as chairman of the joint chiefs of staff. However, Kennedy never entirely bought Taylor's theory of brush-fire wars. He dabbled with the idea in South Viet Nam, but never gave Taylor free-rein. It remained for Lyndon Johnson, inheritor of an insoluble military and political mess, to appoint Gen. Taylor as ambassador to South Viet Nam and tell him to go all out to solve the mess he helped create.

Gen. Taylor soon deviated from his original idea of brush-fire war and extended the war to his disastrous policy of Navy-Air Force bombing of North Viet Nam. This has failed. And with the beginning of the monsoon rains we are now right back where we started — fighting an unseen, jungle enemy which sleeps by day and raids by night — the kind of warfare which the continental army used against the British when conducting an unpopular war against thirteen relatively weak colonies in 1776.

Those thirteen colonies won — partly because they were fighting on their own soil; partly because they were fighting for something they passionately believed in; partly because British troops were fighting a long way from home for something they did not believe in.

American troops half-way around the world in Viet Nam are in the same position today. They are fighting a battle which continued eight years under the French, ten years under American "advisers," and will continue another eighteen years, or even more — for the simple reason that the Vietnamese are fighting on their own ground against foreigners and white men.

Significantly, the George Washington of both North and South Viet Nam is Ho Chi Minh, now the leader of North Viet Nam. But as the father of independence he is revered in the South as much as in the North.

The fact that the "George Washington" of Indochina is viewed with love and admiration by the people of the South whose alleged independence we are trying to preserve is a political fact which no bombing of bridges or raids on supply trains or skirmishes in the steaming jungles can eradicate.

The World Today

Clarity And Fog In New Explanation

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson seems to have added both clarity and fog to his repeated explanations on the use of American troops in the Dominican Republic.

Johnson, sensitive to criticism, acknowledged at his news conference Tuesday his awareness of criticism for his handling of the Dominican problem. But he said he'd rather be criticized for his action than not to have acted.

This was one point of criticism: since this country is a member of the inter-American system — the Organization of American States — why didn't he tell the OAS he was going to use troops before he sent them in?

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy had said Johnson should have done it. Johnson seemed to answer the question Tuesday but not quite directly.

Going over ground he had covered before, he said: The United States had discussed the Dominican problem with Latin American ambassadors and the OAS a number of times between April 24, when the revolt began, and the night of April 28, when he decided to use troops.

But nowhere did he indicate that in any of these consultations the Latin Americans were told Johnson might, or would, use troops if he thought the situation was becoming unbearable.

Johnson explained the OAS was notified immediately after he went on television to announce the use of troops but by then it was public knowledge.

In Johnson's words Tuesday this apparently was the reason: "We did not want to announce they (the troops) were on their way until they had landed for obvious security reasons."

Then the fog set in.

He said the threat of a Communist takeover in the Dominican Republic while not over less than it was and added: the Reds had been active in the revolt and "in a good many places they were in charge of it."

But in his explanation to the nation May 2 he was a lot stronger than that. Then he explained the revolution had been "taken over" by the Communists and it was in their hands.

Not long after that statement, when questions began to be raised about the actual power of the Dominican Reds, U.S. officials said they were no longer in control.

Perhaps more important, in the long view, was another point on which Johnson seemed vaguer Tuesday than before.

This was when he was asked if he had laid down a "new Johnson doctrine" under which American troops would be used to prevent establishment of a Communist government anywhere in the Western Hemisphere.

He said "no" and pointed out that President John F. Kennedy, the Latin-American nations and he himself had all declared the principles of communism are incompatible with the principles of the inter-American system.

But this was repeating what he had said before and did not specifically answer the question: Would U.S. troops be used anywhere in this hemisphere to prevent Red seizure of power?

He seemed closer to answering it May 2 when he said: "We will defend our nation against all those who seek to destroy not only the United States but every free country in this hemisphere."

In this case there's an obvious reason for the vagueness: the Latin Americans don't take kindly to American intervention in their business anywhere.

By not saying the United States would intervene, he let the OAS face this: Will it set up a stand-by or permanent military force which can move in speedily to block a Communist threat in the hemisphere, thus making American intervention unnecessary?

The OAS is not a speedy outfit. Even if the United States thought fast inter-American action against a Communist threat was necessary, the OAS might get lost in arguments and delays.

One thing seems certain: either the OAS arranges to meet a Communist grab for power in a hurry or Johnson, or any other American president, will use American troops.

Q's and A's On Tax Matters

This column of questions and answers is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers.

Q — I'm not sure where I should file my amended return as I just moved here. Should I file it with the district office where my original return was filed or should I send it to the district office where I now live?

A — File the amended return with the district office serving your new address, with the words "amended return" plainly written across the top. When you file, attach a note explaining where your original return was filed.

Q — I had to borrow money to pay my 1964 taxes. I don't think it's fair for the government to permit some people to pay what they owe in installments.

A — To be able to pay off 1964 taxes in installments, the person must show that the balance owing resulted from underwithholding, etc. and that it would be an undue hardship and not just an inconvenience to pay the bill in full. Interest at 6 percent per year is charged on all unpaid balances. This policy is believed to be consistent with fair but vigorous enforcement of the tax laws.

Q — For the past two years I have been asked to send in my receipts to the IRS to verify my tax deductions. Can I come in with them rather than send them through the mails, if I am again requested to substantiate deductions?

A — Yes, you may. The IRS has found, however, that many taxpayers prefer to handle this by mail rather than in person. This procedure, called a correspondence type audit, permits the Revenue Service to cover a larger number of returns with a low manpower expenditure, and is more convenient for many taxpayers.

Q — What are the next Federal tax deadlines an individual has to keep in mind?

A — Individuals filing declarations of estimated tax must pay their second installment by June 15. The third installment is due Sept. 15. Individuals required to file quarterly Social Security returns (Form 942) for their household help should do this on or before April 30, July 31, Oct. 31, and Jan. 31.

Q — We are selling our house. What records should I keep for tax purposes?

A — Keep the settlement sheets and records relating to the price you receive for the house as well as the expenses you incurred in making the sale. Advertising costs, brokers'

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Gastrointestinal Series Important in Cancer

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Q — I can't reconcile myself to the idea of older persons being subjected to the rigors of gastrointestinal series of X-rays including a barium enema. Do you think it is necessary, especially in cases where surgery would not be needed such as spastic colon, constipation or abdominal pain?

A — Although, as you suggest, a complete G.I. series is no picnic, as your age advances it becomes more and more important as a means of discovering cancer. I would certainly not recommend that it be done routinely on every patient with the complaints you mentioned but, when you have a doctor in whom you have complete confidence, you should leave it up to his judgment whether these tests are necessary. Better a few minutes, or even hours, of discomfort than to miss an early diagnosis of cancer.

Q — Would it be advisable for a woman in her late 70s to have cataracts removed from both eyes?

A — With modern methods of surgery age is no barrier to a good result from this operation. In fact most persons with cataracts are in this age group.

Q — In a recent column you stated that there is no known way to prevent cataracts. A friend started getting them so she began eating lemon peels and the cataracts stopped growing. Is this common?

A — It is common for some cataracts to grow very slowly or to remain stationary for a long time. I doubt that the lemon peel influenced the course of your friend's cataracts.

Q — Is there any treatment for cataract besides surgery, such as injections into the eye to dissolve the matter covering the lens?

A — The opacity or cataract occurs in the lens itself and not on its surface. There is no way to dissolve a cataract once it has formed or to prevent it from forming.

Q — Is Hetrazan an effective treatment for filariasis? How is it given? Are there any bad side effects?

A — Although the parasitic disease, filariasis, is most common in Africa, India and Central and South America it is also seen in the United States, especially in persons who have been in the tropics. Diethylcarbamazine (Hetrazan) is the treatment of choice because it attacks the larval form of the parasite. It is given by mouth either in tablet or syrup form. Thiocetarsamide which kills the adult worms is given when the victim fails to respond to Hetrazan. In the prescribed dosage there are no serious side effects.

DEAR MRS. LIGHT: What would you think of a boy with an I.Q. of 125 who hasn't learned to read with any degree of fluency or comprehension? I am speaking of our son, who has had trouble with reading ever since his first pre-primar last year. It seems to me that with an I.Q. like this he should be sailing along by now. I've tried to help him at home, but it's virtually impossible to get through to him. Why? — Troubled Mother Answer: As you've discovered, a high I.Q. doesn't necessarily insure success in reading. Other factors are important, too.

An instance of this showed up recently when a teacher administered I.Q. tests to her first graders. Scores ranged from 90 to 133. For over a semester her students had been in high, middle or low reading groups in accordance with their actual day-by-day achievement and seeming ability.

Imagine how dumbfounded she was to find that half of her top reading group ranked in the lower half of the class I.Q.-wise! At this point they were already in a second-grade reader, doing well. Only one of the six children with I.Q.s over 120 was in the top group.

This is not to say that a superior I.Q. is a barrier to good reading. It may only indicate that group I.Q. tests are not reliable. Research does show, however, that physical, neurological, social and emotional problems often lead to reading problems, even in an extra-bright child.

Your son's poor reading may be caused by anything from too much pressure to visual problems which don't show up in the usual eye examination. If you and the school have been unable to pinpoint his difficulties by this time, I suggest you take him to a remedial reading commission, fixing-up expenses, and legal fees may be deducted from the price you receive for the house when you determine whether you will have a gain to report on the sale. Your share of the real estate taxes are deductible in Part IV of page 2, Form 1040. Records of the original cost of the property to you, including commissions and the cost of improvements, should be retained.

If you buy another house, similar records should be kept.

Q — Our Women's Club is holding a card party and fashion show to raise general operating funds. Do we have to collect Federal admissions tax on the tickets we sell? Ours is an unincorporated, non-profit social organization.

A — Yes, Federal admissions tax must be collected. The law levies a tax of 1 cent on each 10 cents (or major fraction of 10 cents) of the excess over $1. Tax collections should be reported on Form 720 available at local Internal Revenue offices.

clinic for analysis and help. The sooner you take action, the better.

Teachers and parents who are alerted to the warning signs of future reading problems in kindergarten children can often take corrective steps before formal reading is begun. Baby talk, lack of visual discrimination and inability to follow directions, for example, may foretell trouble.

Aside from cases needing professional care, perhaps the best thing a parent can do to help a child learn to read is to send him to school happy, healthy and well-behaved. Most teachers can handle the rest!

Democrat Pick-ups

IT WAS A SMALL GROUP of women and sometimes people only get in on just a word or two of a conversation and that is what one woman did.

She heard someone mention a man's name she knew and heard them say they buried him the day before.

"Did he die?" she asked without thinking how it sounded.

"Yes," replied the woman who was telling about it. "That is the reason they buried him." —H. L.

IT WASN'T just a haircut, it wasn't even a crew cut, it was almost a shave leaving the little boy with practically no hair. He was so ashamed he wanted to wear his hat all the time but he had to take it off in Sunday School.

This was the worst thing that could have happened, because the other boys teased him.

"You are bald-headed," one of the kids said, and after he got home he was telling about it.

"What did you say?" questioned his father.

"I hauled off and hit him," replied the boy.

Thinking he probably gave the other youngster a punch in the nose the father queried farther, "Where did you hit him?"

"I hit him," said the youngster, "right in the middle of Sunday School." —H.L.

Approves Sewer Service Charges

PITTSBURG, Kan. (AP) — The City Commission approved on first reading Tuesday an ordinance establishing a sewer service charge.

The ordinance would set a charge of $1.50 per month for each 1,300 cubic feet of water used in the city and another five cents for each additional 100 cubic feet used during the month.

Users outside the city would be charged $3 per month per 1,300 cubic feet and 10 cents for each additional 100 cubic feet.

Industries and institutions outside the corporate city limits who use the city sewer disposal system would be charged the same rate as users inside the city.

Government Guidelines New Tools

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — If the honeymoon of the Johnson administration and business fades it might well be due to government's new tool for influencing economic behavior — guidelines.

They are being applied to prices, wages, investments and banking practices. They are undergoing their first big test right now.

Guidelines join the traditional government tools of taxes, subsidies, and supervising agencies. All are used to shape the economy more or less.

Opposition to the new tool of guidelines is rising in some business and banking quarters as well as in some labor unions.

One example is in steel. Labor objects to government's saying it should ask so much and no more to avoid inflation. Management resents government saying how much it could raise wages without increasing prices. And any government censure of steel price increases brings angry replies from some steel executives.

Government guidelines as an influence on economic decisions differ from other tools in several ways. By definition they rest on voluntary compliance.

They are implemented to a large degree by exerting pressure of public opinion. And they usually carry at least an implied threat that if business doesn't follow the guidelines, government may step in and impose controls.

The moral that government hopes management and labor will grasp is that voluntary compliance to guidelines of what Washington thinks is best for the economy is preferable to controls or direct penalties.

Business takes all of the government's economic tools into account when making its decisions.

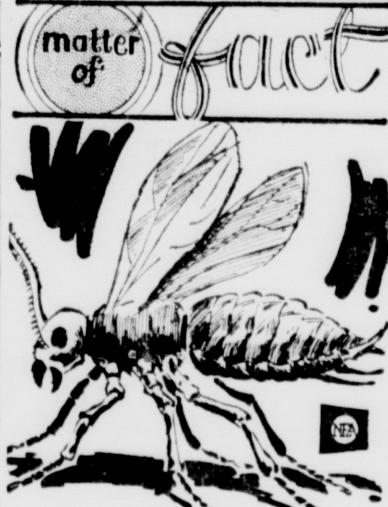

Guidelines are now in the testing stage. Those aimed at wages and prices seek price stability from two approaches: 1. Labor costs should rise only as much as output per man-hour rises; 2. Prices should rise only in industries where output per man-hour lags behind the national average and should fall in industries with greater than average productivity gains.

Compliance runs up against the natural desire of workers for higher pay and of management for tailoring pricing demand and competition as well as to production costs.

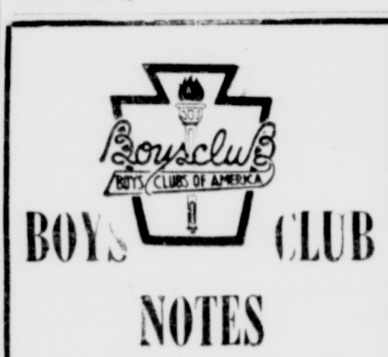

In the field of investments and banking, the government guidelines have as goals: 1. Keeping long-term interest rates low enough to inspire economic growth; 2. Keeping U.S. dollars home, both by keeping short-term interest rates high and by getting corporations voluntarily to cut back on overseas investments and inducing banks to trim foreign loans.

Here compliance has worked so far. But corporations grumble that over the long run their overseas investments would return more dollars in profits than they now cost in construction. And banks argue that much of their overseas lending is to finance American exports which strengthen the U.S. dollar more than any lending can hurt it.

Battle
The Battle of Horseshoe Bend was not an engagement during the War Between the States, but a battle during the War of 1812. The engagement, between forces under General Andrew Jackson and Creek Indians, was fought in what now is Alabama.

Insects are the most eminently successful of all animals. They represent at least 80 per cent of all known animal life. They number about 850,000 species. Some entomologists estimate the actual number of species at more than 2,000,000. The most numerous in species are the beetles, butterflies and moths, ants, bees, wasps and flies.

The Boys Club is now closed for the summer. There will be no more meetings in the club until September when the same program will continue. Most of the club activities during this summer will be out of doors, such as softball, camping, hiking, swimming and physical fitness tests will be given all during the summer for boys who wish to compete for their physical fitness awards.

New members are: Bradley Dick, William Burnham, Scott Burkholder, Steve Glass and Jim Van Horn.

During the summer sessions equipment will be repaired and checked as additional equipment will be provided to take care of the worn or non-usable materials. The speed bag supports will be renewed and various other changes will be made to accommodate boys who are expected to turn out for the boxing squad.

A number of boys have been placed on part time jobs for the summer. These include mowing lawns, helping house clean, and various other unskilled work. There also are several 16-17 year old boys who desire part time work for the summer.
